

Dear Brother Ron,

I came across your website after a google search of the work "cruciformity". I was really interested in the title of your book. I am a young pastor in Houston Tx. I have dedicated my life to preaching the true message of the Cross and I have found it to be a lonely camp.

I invite you to listen to my podcast messages on the Cross. Here is the link.
<http://phobos.apple.com/WebObjects/MZStore.woa/wa/viewPodcast?id=282994297>

...

Wow! What a blessing to hear from you so quickly! Thank you for the encouraging words. I too believe in the centrality of the cross. The cross is the plumb bob by which all doctrine and teach becomes balanced. I believe the key to all spiritual victory and power is conformity to His death. For if we are to become like Him is His life we must become like Him in His death. 2 Cor 4:10-12

The cross is key not only for justification but for our sanctification as well. I believe it is the "narrow path" that leads to life but few are they who find it. Matt 7

The cross was not a one time event. It is an on going moment by moment work of the Spirit in our lives. The concurrent working of deep opposites.". Bishop Moule of England. 1800's. If we are not being killed we are not being made alive. If we are not being emptied we're not being filled. Decreased so He can increase. No longer I but Christ. Acts 27:41 "where two seas (cross currents) met.". This is the place where your outer man will "be broken up". While your inner man "sticks fast" (union). Let go of all controls and cast your self on Him.

Through the Cross,
Steve Trevino